Dossersgame

Dossersgame is a satirical strategy-based game. The player's goal is to progress the virtual character from a homeless person to a castle owner and bring it to fame and glory. Along with collecting bottles from the streets and receiving virtual donations, players can also earn money by learning musical instruments. Players are then able to invest the money, for example, into improving one's ability to concentrate or to live in a more lucrative place of residence. Even the formation of ties with other players is an important part of the game, as players are supported by a strong community within the game. Through the theme of homelessness and poverty, Dossergame separates itself from all other games that mostly take place in the middle-ages or in space.

Dossergame is constructed so that friends and acquaintances can play the game together. Through the establishment of community elements, Pennergame benefits from a word-of-mouth effect – not a single cent has been invested into advertising and it is spreading through schools, universities and offices. Dossergame has been hugely successful in a number of countries. Only a couple of weeks after the French and Spanish versions were released, more than 100,000 players were registered. The Polish Menelgame.pl counts more than 700.000 users.

Homelessness

From the beginning, a part of the earnings from the game have been regularly donated to organizations that help the homeless. Since the beginning of 2009, Farbflut has organized donation campaigns through the transparent online foundation of betterplace.org. Alone in 2009 a middle 5 figure amount was given to different projects, such as the homeless day center Café mit Herz in Hamburg, and the GEBEWO – Social Service – mbh in Berlin. Farbflut places a particular value on involving the two million plus players of the game, and getting them to take part in the donation campaigns.
